

Presentation Excellence

In just two days

Recent research has shown that people who stand to present their ideas achieve more conviction, more respect and greater credibility.

If you want to be able to perform with confidence, exude presence, and get great feedback from your business presentations, you want to attend Archer Training's two-day Presentation Excellence programme.

- A thoroughly tested, results-driven workshop
- Innovative personal 'hot-seat' coaching
- No pre-course work - great for busy people
- Full digital video recording.
- Maximum 6 delegates so lots of practise

"It was so enlightening to hear someone with not only a good message but also to put it over with such enthusiasm"

- Maximise your presence
- Watching your video in private
- Control your visuals
- Harness your nerves
- Create audience centred presentations
- Handle questions

Because the learning is done through hot seat coaching, everyone will have a tailored experience.
